The ability to innovate is directly coupled to the idea that anything, me as an individual creates will be offered in the same open fair market as any corporate. Limiting my network performance due to cost is the same as limiting my ability to vote based on the amount of tax I pay. Information is a democratic right and the sharing of is a duty the government should protect. The FCC needs to drive network costs down force fair and ubiquitous access and standardize on IP as the base protocol, nothing higher. This will define the future of the country if not the world.
