

7521127796.txt

All businesses should have a chance at success on the online marketplace without the risk of being crowded out by bandwidth throttling. For this reason I support Net Neutrality, and oppose any allowance for ISP's to control or censor their users' access.