

7521127830.txt

I firmly believe that Net Neutrality will shape the future of our country. We are more reliant on the Internet every day to access information and share our ideas and it must be an even playing field for all. We live in a country of people, not corporations and all should be treated equally.