

7521127969.txt

This is going to limit accessibility of information for the majority of people in the country. It will increase prices for internet for average Americans, and thus paying much more for far less access. This is terrible, especially with the recent Time Warner/Comcast merger limiting options for people for internet providers and access. Do not proceed with these new rules for allowing large companies and corporations more access to the internet over everyday citizens.