

7521128594.txt

Net neutrality is extremely important to me, my family, my friends, and my community. We don't need internet tollbooths to dictate our web experience, and have yet another part of our lives segregated between those with large amounts of capital and those without. It's utterly despicable that our country based on freedom is even considering this path. Please. Fight for net neutrality!