

7521129138.txt

This is a terrible blow to small companies who want to compete on the internet. This plan will cause large ISPs to hold content hostage demanding payment both from the consumers who use the ISP and the businesses wanting to connect to the consumers. It makes me wonder if the person who drafted this plan has ever even used the internet.