

7521129803.txt

The internet should be open, free, and equal for everyone whether you're a consumer, small business, or huge corporation. All data should be treated equally and delivered without being charged more/less based upon popularity and bandwidth.