

7521131579.txt

The FCC should protect net neutrality by reclassifying broadband providers as common carriers under Title II.

As a paying customer - of what has become a utility - my ISP should take my money and provide the basic service of universally fast internet access to whoever/whatever services I wish to connect to.

The concept of double billing - and the lack of broadband competition or alternative ability to "vote with my wallet" makes this extremely important to all of our citizens as well as our economy.