

7521131622.txt

One speed for all on the Internet. No high speed data track for trading at preferred rates.

Advances in technology will soon enable unlimited bandwidth and this debate will disappear.

Until then, no corporation, government or individual should pay for fast lane privilege.