

7521133394.txt

* * * Chairman Wheeler's proposal undercuts net neutrality and would favor wealthy corporations by allowing 'pay to play' rules to stifle small businesses. This proposal is bad for consumers, bad for the next generation of businesses, and bad for the future of our democracy.

* * * American consumers have been clear: The way forward is to regulate Internet providers like telephone companies.