

The internet must remain free. There should be only one fast lane for all users of the internet. To create separate accesses creates inequality by its very nature. We founded this country on freedom and equality. To digress from that only serves to weaken our society, please do not create separate higher priced access lanes to the internet no matter how much anyone stands to gain financially. This issue transcends the greed of capitalism.

Thank you, Dan Cobb