

Dear FCC,

The internet is a modern utility that should be treated as a public good, protected from private influence for the sake of our country and its citizens. ISP's should treat all data and users of their network equally, at whatever cost, because innovation and competition depend on equal access to information and opportunity. Save our future, and be good.

Thank you,

Andy Geilfuss

Bellingham, WA.