

I will make this letter short and straight to the point. The new Net Neutrality rules is complete bogus. I believe in free open internet, where I can be free and anonymous to express myself. I am a student in MDC (Miami Dade College) I want to have an education. However if this law passes it would be very costly for me and for my school as well. I want to have a better future which is why I am going to school. Its not fair for one to pay for their own internet plus adding EXTRA fees from sites I go to. Not only I am a student but I love playing games in my free time, also it reduces my stress. So please change the internet back from the way its supposed to be. Free open source, so I or anyone can have their education and have the right to express themselves.

I thank you for reading this letter

Sincerely, Alex Alvarez
