The internet is a wonderful thing, it gives us the ability to share creations and even just our thoughts. It should not be a place that is controlled to the point of stifling it and the creativity of others, no matter how much money you may get from doing this you should have the morals to say that this is not right. It is very very wrong in fact, it is not right to step on other people and crush their visions. It is not fair to give certain companies a "fast lane" to our routers, modems, computers, phones, tablets, and any other machines we may use to access the internet. Everyone should have the same speeds, the same access to websites and the same un-altered experiences. Youtube does not want this, Amazon does not want this, Netflix does not want this, Steam does not want this, nobody wants this. I am also sure that I am not the only one and I doubt that it is just a few others opposed to this, there are millions of people who oppose this. So I am asking for Net Neutrality to be re-instated in full.
