

I do not support this movement. The internet belongs to the people, we the people made the internet as a whole; we hold the right to use it.