PLEASE reclassify ISP's such as Comcast and Time Warner as Common Carriers under Title 2. The internet NEEDS to remain neutral. The United States is already far behind other MEDC's in terms of internet speed and QOS. Our ISP's operate like monopolies, and charging for faster/better service is an absurd proposition that would create bigger economic disparities between established corporations and small businesses trying to get a start using the web. All other countries see and respect the internet as a neutral system, why can't we?
