

May 17, 2014

(Address is not necessary because this is a comment regarding the FCC trying to destroy Net Neutrality!)

Dear FCC,

Your reason for wanting to destroy "Net Neutrality," is going to hurt the people of America and the businesses all over the world. Let me explain to you what will happen if you proceed to do this. It is quite simple really. All the American people have to do is simply, cut off their internet service provider and boycott going on the internet. If this boycott happens, the internet service providers will lose money/jobs along with the businesses around the world that need the internet to track their sales, do some benchmarking, check on customer service status and etc. All the American people have to do is read a book, teach their kids to go outside and play, play old school retro games on off days, watch old school tv shows for the VHS, ride a bike, work to survive, go to church, go to the gym, read the newspaper and many more things that America can do that does not involve the internet. Your plans to destroy "Net Neutrality" is quite outlandish and laughable. All you are doing, is making the American people smarter/better, while the FCC, is going to have to deal with the numerous complaints of the internet service providers and the many businesses around the world that will lose money and jobs. So in other words, it is a "lose lose" situation for you. Think about it.

Sincerely,

Victor Edward Medley