

Dear FCC ,

The Internet or as you once called it the A.r.p.a Net is a wonderful tool and shares great value and is a necessity in our society .

The internet is used for applying for job applications and updating a database from home so that someone can pay their bills on time so that a child can live safe and can have food to survive .

Asking a consumer to pay more for the internet is the same reason rich upper class citizens are not paying their high tax bills and you say it benefits everyone but it's only benefiting rich consumers who can afford a 500$ operating system .

It sounds to me that people like myself who live off of low income and who had just endured several years of changes with Health trauma and Emotional trauma have to endure without getting ahead in without this amazing and sometimes miraculous piece of technology.

In the past humans have discovered fire and water the basic human necessities of life and as we delve deeper into this new millennium we have discovered the social media network that which is called the internet and as our fore fathers before it we have learned to tame nature and all it shares with us .

Yet the one thing humankind has created and crafted on it's own terms has to be regulated and made more expensive so that less people can understand what it is that makes the Home computer , Cell Phone , Game Console , Television , And last but not least Ourselves , so I ask you Please Repeal this Act cause it's presence is a disservice to the Human Race as a whole Above and Beyond .

Thank You For Your Time ,

Sincerely , Divine A Edwards
