

7521144713.txt

The FCC should designate ISPs as Common Carriers! I have relied heavily on fast internet access through my higher education and now that I am entering the job market, it is the NUMBER 1 way that I connect with potential employers and promote my work. Please don't make the internet useful only for those who can pay huge sums of money, it's not right.