

To whom it may concern:

I Don't like what you are doing to the internet, you are destroying the free & open internet by implementing these anti-freedom & censorship measures that favor the telecommunications companies. Many people know that fcc chairman wheeler held important positions with at least 1 or more of these telecommunications companies that are involved with the current state of the internet in the past. We know the game of smoke & mirrors that wheeler & others that are involved that are trying to feed the public by acting like they care for the public, but in reality based on their actions they are displaying that they only care about the telecommunications companies & their own vested interests.

Actions speak louder than words. And the actions that the fcc are declaring loudly currently that the fcc only is in favor of the telecommunications companies & their own vested interests, which are definitely literally & figuratively in every which way not in the best interests of the general public & the true free & open internet. The fcc can spin it any which way they want, but it won't change the fact of the matter that any other way(besides the right way that benefits the general public & promotes + preserves the open & free internet as we currently know it) is the wrong way & will effectively destroy the open & free internet as we currently know it.

Sincerely,

Joseph Fisher.
