

7521145872.txt

I support treating ISPs as if they were common carriers. I do not believe carriers should be able to discriminate based on what they are carrying, and should be obligated to the consumer. Do not let the cable lobbyists buy their way into government like seems so apparent with as many former cable lobbyists that are employed by the FCC. Consumers have the right to a competitive and capitalistic model for choosing an ISP.