

7521147484.txt

Classify broadband internet as a common carrier service. Media companies should respect the internet as a separate, free entity, and should not attempt to catch it, saddle it, and breed it to their own personal monetary gain.