Dear Commissioners,
Proceeding 14-28 : Protecting and Promoting the Open Internet is an unacceptable, irresponsible proposal. This is a far cry from the ideals of net neutrality that were proposed in former years. I understand that ISPs are big businesses and have lots of time and money and energy to spend trying to fight net neutrality but the fact that they are so willing to fight it so vehemently should be a red flag in itself. Please do not give in to these pressures, do not allow business to trump citizens. By willfully participating in the restriction of information to our citizens you are doing all Americans a disservice. Do the right thing, classify the ISPs as common carriers and require them to act responsibly and in the best interest of the American public.

Thank you,
Amy Ni ggel
