

7521150634.txt

It's my belief that the FCC should focus efforts on removing the local and state barriers incumbants have fought to get approve that restrict municipalites from deploying modern broadband based systems where they themselves were unwilling to do so.

I look at the success of municipalities such as Chattanooga TN and their fiber deployment, and to the opportunities it's created by having affordable very high speed bandwidth available.