

7521151167.txt

Are you actually going to sell access to our last free source of information to rich and powerful corporations? Are you actually going to let these corporate giants control what we can see, eliminate competitive market-place pricing, and conglomerates to violate anti-trust laws? I thought this was America. I thought this was the land of opportunity. Keep America, her people, and her Internet free.