Sirs/Madams:

I write to oppose the merger of TW cable and Comcast. While I cannot opine on the quality of the Comcast service, I am a customer of TW Cable/Internet in Los Angeles. Currently, the service and response to problems is mixed, at best, probably more on the not great side. There have been days where I am without internet service and TW Cable is slow to remedy and also never discounts our monthly fee based on actual days of service. Also, when our cable went down for over 1/2 of the Super Bowl, response was not great and how did they try to make it up to customers who, like myself had people over the house, spent money on food and drink, like myself, received a small acknowledgment of the mea culpa by offering me 1 video on demand. I would look at this as, in exchange for an over $150 party stopped because of service (we all had to seek out people w Direct TV to watch the game) with a what, $5 rebate of a service. I cannot see this merger in any way helping but rather detracting from the current level of service. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Chris Adelman
