

7521152159.txt

I'm requesting that the FCC reclassifies Internet Service Providers As Title II Common Carriers. I feel that these rules are unfair, and don't give us much freedom at all. I pay enough for Internet that should be fast, and the FCC wants to throttle my speeds, and access what sites I can and can't go on? If these rules were proposed, I may as well just stop using the Internet, as it saddens me to say.