I am requesting that the FCC reclassifies Internet Service Providers as Title II Common Carriers. The United States Government has given them millions of dollars in order for them to improve their network infrastructure, The ISP's took the money and did not use the money for those purposes. Meanwhile companies like Google Fiber who are paying for their own network infrastructure, are being pushed out by existing ISP's. If ISP's are not reclassified as common carriers, it slows down entrepreneurship, because competing companies can just pay the ISP's to slow down the startup websites. Please reclassify Internet Service Providers as Title II Common Carriers Thank You
