To all whom it may concern,

The internet has become a major growing area for society. Almost everything that we use today is in some way connected to the internet which makes it an incredibly important resource. The new net neutrality laws I feel are very detrimental towards the purpose of the internet as it will give ISPs the power to simply cut your speeds if they don't like you and give companies that pay higher speeds.

I'm requesting that the FCC reclassifies Internet Service Providers as Title II Common Carriers.
