

May 30, 2014

Dear Chairman Tom Wheeler, Chairman, commissioner Mignon Clyburn, Commissioner, Commissioner Jessica Rosenworcel, Commissioner, Commissioner Ajit Pai, Commissioner Michael O'Rielly, Kris Monteith, Acting Bureau Chief, Mark Stone, Deputy Bureau Chief, Karen Peltz Strauss, Deputy Bureau Chief, Gregory Hlibok, Chief of Disability Rights Division, Susan Kimmel, Deputy Chief, Robert Aldrich, Attorney Advisor.

We are pleased to present you with this petition affirming this statement:

"FCC has in the past made sure the cellular phones are interoperable for consumers to be able to reach out anybody in the world. Now that we have video capabilities on our smartphones and computers, the FCC needs to order them to be interoperable with each other. "

There are several off-shelves video phone communication products such as Skype, ooVoo, FaceTime, Tango, among countless different products available for customers to choose. At the moment, they are not interoperable with each other, forcing us to have each one in our systems or various hardware to choose to talk to friends on a similar system.

Federal Communications Commission (FCC) has the power/authority to order interoperability among those products. FCC to order this action so our customers can choose a product of their own to work with their peer's choices of products just like the current Cellular/ Land-line phone systems work.

We all can communicate with anybody without going through the hassle of making sure what product the other end has. This will help increase true accessibility for our Deaf & Hard of Hearing friends in reaching out to their peers and hearing counterparts without the manipulation of the current Video Relay Service companies to be coerced into utilizing their product only.

Attached is a list of individuals who have added their names to this petition, as well as additional comments written by the petition signers themselves. Please be advised, there are 1,179 people supporting this petition.

Sincerely,
Jon Ziev

I am deaf person and I use videophone to communicate with both deaf and hearing people all the times. One thing that irks me is the inability of different VRS services (such as Sorenson, Purple, ZVRS, etc) to interoperate with each other with ease. Several times, I get fuzzy video or "blank" (black) screen that I cannot see the person on other end of the call. Please enact a bill to force them to respect the customer's rights.

If a deaf person owns a business, and they need to contact anybody in the whole world so we can interact and grow our business. Without video capabilities of growing our business and communication, we are back where we started zero! Please reconsider this and ensure that all video phones are capabilities to each equipment. smartphones, computers, Sorenson, zvrs, purple, caavrs and much much more. Please help us, we Deaf do vote too! We are the people, by the people, for the people. God Bless you!

This problem of not being able to contact Deaf friends via video phone because I am hearing is nothing short of discrimination!!! I am so tired of the government separating us into classes (hearing and Deaf) and making communication less private because we are forced to say everything through relay services even if we have our own technology and are proficient signers. Agree 100% -- this is important for access to healthcare as well! FCC -- on a separate note -- video phone access needs to be made available to hearing individuals who have deaf family members AS WELL AS deaf-skilled, ASL fluent professionals who need to be able to communicate directly with deaf collaterals, and deaf patients via video phone -- Although I am fluent in ASL I sometimes am forced to communicate with patients thru a VRS -- costing the government money --- if I had access to a videophone for point to point communication then I could communicate directly with my deaf patients or deaf collateral professionals and not incur any interpreting costs --- unfortunately hearing people do not get equivalent access to videophone technology ---
