

7521154062.txt

Keep it open, keep it neutral.

As powerful and world spanning as the internet is and will continue to be it is vitally important that we have regulations protecting equal rights in this common space. The internet is Common Space, just like the public park, or sidewalks I walk with my son on. This is the common ground that is and will unite the world. Allowing ISPs any leeway to limit traffic with ANY bias will only slow our progress.