

7521155308.txt

I OPPOSE FCC-14-28. This rule will allow tiered services. One of the simplest methods for implementation comes from Cardozo Law School professor Susan P. Crawford, who "believes that a neutral Internet must forward packets on a first-come, first served basis, without regard for quality-of-service considerations."