If such a ruling is made it would end net neutrality. This is the dream of the cable companies. In the end a monopoly would be established. I know fighting this may be impossible since the FCC is now ran by an ex lobbyist for cable and that Comcast has spent more than any other group in washington to create such a ruling. Tech start-ups, the average consumer, and any other company whose business is solely internet based will be affected. Please leave the internet alone. Thank You.
