

7521161594.txt

Net Neutrality needs to stick around you w@nkers! Not only should we need net neutrality but we need more competition between cable companies like Comcast and Time Warner in all areas. Shouldn't these cable companies provide services at competitive rates like the majority of America does in a capitalist society? I mean that is the most basic principle of capitalism, or at least it was. These companies should serve the people rather than stuff their mattresses with our hard earned dollars.