Having president Obama put a former comcast ceo in charge of the fcc is an obvious conflict of interest and a total FUNKING SLAP IN THE FACE to every reasonable American who believes in an open and free internet..... add on top of the fact that comcast lobbies more than anyone else for the one exception of the military industrial complex..... total FUNKING bullsheet, total disregard for American ideals... well except for the wealthy few future American oligarchs that will soon rule America error correction already do! Americans pay more for Internet access and how do we rank in Internet speed?! We spend how much for health care but rank where on health and happiness! ? The slaves will rise up and eat the cold black hearts of those who would have us poisoned and degraded into mindless sheeple
