

7521169024.txt

As if corporatism has not already merged with our democracy, it could get worse when the internet is given to the highest bidders. We already pay MORE money for WORSE internet than most developed countries around the world. Let's at least keep the internet open to all.