

7521169248.txt

The internet should be left open and free. The only portion the gov't needs to take place in regulating on it, should be to ensure it stays this way. Don't let the greedy companies throw all their cash into your pockets and actually make a positive change for once in your life.