

7521170568.txt

A fair and equal internet is what makes it so special. Net neutrality is what has allowed such amazing innovation on the net. As a small business owner, I fear the about the future of the little guy. The internet should not be a world of the have and have nots. All data should be treated equally and allowing companies to decide which data should be prioritized goes against the very foundation of the world wide web. Please do not go forward with this misleadingly titled act, and instead keep the data flowing freely.

Thank you,
Trevor Stone