

Dear FCC, please keep the internet free and equal. The upcoming plans give too much power to the oligopoly our country's citizens are forced to abide with. Considering that the new FCC leader was a former cable lobbyist is appalling. I am just a student, and it feels like my voice doesn't matter. It also comes across that the government is a puppet being controlled by corporations who don't care about the citizens. Please, make changes for the better, equality is the best thing about the United States of America, and corporations are trying to take that away from us.

Sincerely, Case Offutt
