

7521184136.txt

I would encourage the FCC to abandon this two tiered internet idea, our internet is already of marginal speed when compared to other countries, how can we expect to compete or at least keep pace with the world when we are being held back by our poor second rate infrastructure.

Thank you I hope you do the right thing for the United States