

7521193023.txt

The tiered system is not in the best interest of a free market. This proposal is mislead, and should be tabled immediately. This proposal is a clear and obvious attempt by a few powerful internet providers to wrest control of the medium. There is nothing wrong with the free competition that exists now.