

7521193483.txt

When a person with no manners or decorum chooses to talk on their phone in a public place, it's a rude inconvenience, but at least I have the power to get up and walk away. I do not have that option on an airplane. Do not allow this ability on flights. It will only lead to air rage and hatred for the airlines that allow it.