

7521196823.txt

Preserve net neutrality. As an entrepreneur, I care deeply about keeping the internet as a level playing field between large, established companies and small startups. Ending net neutrality would harm innovation and the startup culture that our country needs if we are to compete successfully in the global arena.