

7521204397.txt

I currently have only one choice for my Internet provider, so the cable monopoly here already exists. To ban net neutrality and allow the already rich corporations to charge more for services will only make the monopolies worse.

Why in the world did the President appoint a cable lobbyist to head the FCC? That is a massive conflict of interest. I don't expect much from you people at this point. I miss the old days, when all you did was yell at people if they said bad words on TV. Now you are considering giving the Internet to corporations by selling your vote. What a joke. No morals whatsoever. Shame on you.