The Internet may be the only source of True Democracy on the planet. (With access to equipment) it allows anyone, regardless financial ability, education, national origin or religious persuasion to learn about the world and to share their own beliefs and experiences. It is the great equalizer. The Internet brings a hope like none before of bringing human rights to people suffering around the globe. Ending Net Neutrality is the first step of taking away this unprecedented equality, and putting control into the hands of the gigantic, power-wielding monopolies. Once we let that happen, the Internet will no longer be equal - and those monolithic corporations will have all the power to decide how to use it. Do not let that happen!
