

7521222738.txt

Allowing a few corporations to determine what content is displayed, routed, provided to users is perhaps the worst idea anyone could have come up with. This idea is against everything we as "freedom loving people" should be fighting for. 1 person, 1 voice. not anymore. 6 corporations = all voices. Please leave net neutrality. This idea is such a bad idea, there is no possible way an objective person could possibly see it any other way.

Thanks,

Rick