

7521224751.txt

Make the InterNet a Common Carrier. Large ISPs do not have the right to stifle the small developers. The public should not pay twice for InterNet speeds they thought they had already bought from the ISP. You know the affected web companies will pass the price along to their consumers!