

7521224928.txt

Keep the net open and free. Create regulations that keep companies from exploiting or in any way unfairly throttling service to specific websites. Do not allow the net to be controlled, either by you or any other entities for their own interests. The net does not belong to you. Preserve net neutrality, and put in place strong regulations that firmly preserve net neutrality for future generations.