

7521246041.txt

The internet is the only hope for freedom from control by the corporations or the government or both. Our world is becoming dangerously tilted toward the powerful. If that trend is not reversed soon, the consequences are unpredictable; and the internet is the only hope of reversing it.