So this is the intersection of censor-happy statisticians and the most blatantly in-group political oligarchical slap in the face of the fundamental ideals of democracy since the GMO king ruled over court proceedings regarding GMO's.

I don't have any faith that this comment means anything because the guys in charge value a buck and a political capital credit on their Capitol Hill Rewards Card over the voices of 300,000,000 Americans. But I don't have anything better to do.

So maybe just this once, just because we're all asking nicely, just because pretentious hashtag activists happened to stumble upon an issue that they can actually follow up on, take the policy action that patently, unambiguously promotes the interest of the people over the big corporate lobbyist and the Lord of Shills planted on the throne of your administration.
